A Comprehensive Gender Figure Participating Schools across all the 36 States & FCT

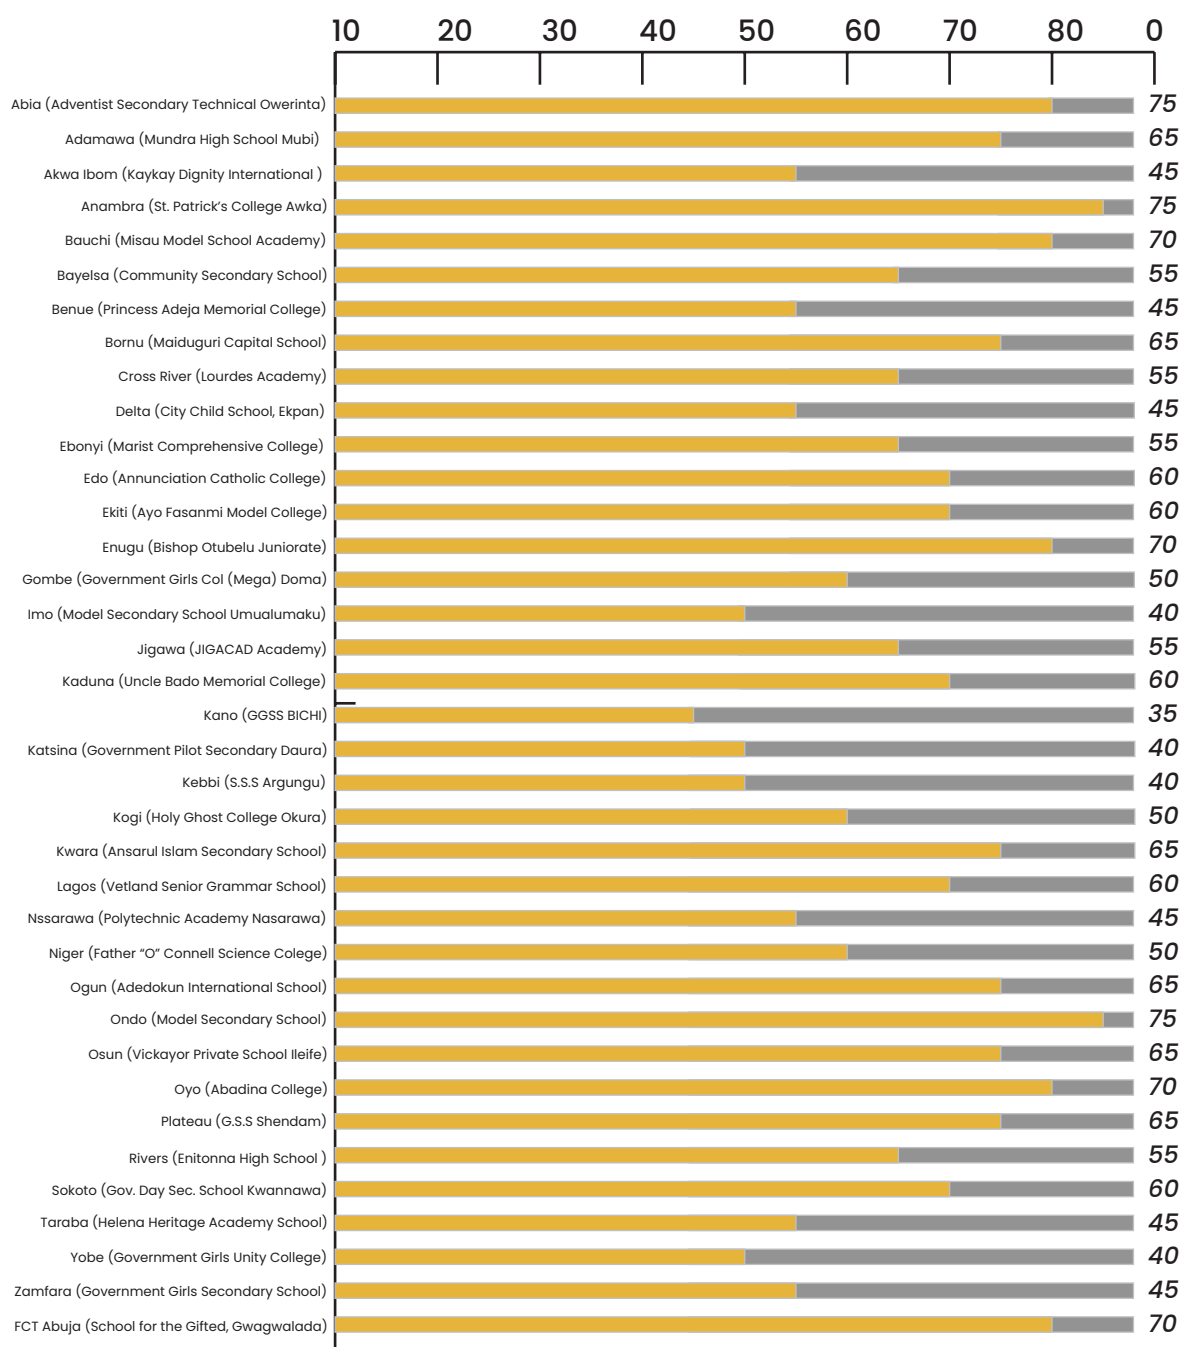

Figure 74 succinctly captures the gender distributions of participating students who took part in the state competition of the 2024 NILDS secondary schools quiz. Available data shows that show clear dominance of female students in the competition. Abia came 1st with only female students representing the six states bring the total number to 12. This is closely followed by Cross River State with 11 female students to 1 male student. Ekiti, Kogi and Ondo States had 9 female students to 3 males ratio each who competed while Ebonyi, Kaduna, Lagos and Plateau recorded 8 females to 4 male students ratio. Akwa Ibom, Anambra, Enugu, Gombe, Imo, Jigawa, Kwara, Osun and Sokoto each had 7 female students to 5 males. This speaks volume about the pendulum shifting against the boy-child in the education sector.

There was gender balance in the composition of participating students in the state edition of the 2024 NILDS quiz competitions in Bauchi, Bayelsa, Edo, Kano, Kebbi, Nasarawa, Ogun, Oyo state and FCT with 6 female and 6 male students each. Similarly, Borno State also recorded gender balance with 5 females and 5 male students representing 5 participating schools in the state.

Conversely, Zamfara State recorded 9 male students to 3 females ratio that participated in the competition. Taraba and Rivers states had 8 males to 4 female students who competed while in Yola, Niger, Benue and Adamawa states 7 boys to 5 girls took part in the competition in the affected states.

Comparative of Winning Scores Across The 36 States & FCT

A comparative view of the winning schools across the 36 states and FCT shows that St. Patrick College, Awka Anambra State and Model Secondary School, Akure Ondo State recorded the highest score with 75 points each. Occupying the second highest scores spot include Adventist Secondary Technical, Owerinta Abia State, Misau Model School Academy Bauchi State, Bishop Otubelu Juniorate, Trans-Ekulu Enugu State, Abadina College, Oyo State and School for the Gifted, Gwagwalada FCT with 70

Executive Summary

The National Institute for Legislative and Democratic Studies (NILDS) in its quest for providing continued education on the practice and procedure of the legislature and encouraging deeper understanding of civic and democratic governance in Nigeria has sustained the annual quiz competition on democracy and governance for senior secondary schools in Nigeria with the 2024 edition being the 9th edition of the competition. In line with its mandate, the competition is one of the flagship programmes of the Institute, targeted at stimulating the interest of young students in politics and making them more proactive in matters relating to the legislature and democracy.

The first edition of the competition held in 2016 with participating schools drawn strictly from within the Federal Capital Territory, and continued to be an annual event in that format until the Institute's Governing Council under the 9th National Assembly directed that the competition should be expanded to the length and breadth of the country. This was successfully done in the year 2022 in collaboration with all the 36 states and the FCT with schools from 34 States and the FCT participating in that year. In the year 2023, 35 States and the FCT participated. This 9th edition of the competition is therefore the third time the competition is holding at the national level and the first time all 36 States and the FCT participated in the competition. This is a testament of the impact the quiz competition is making in the country and the popularity it has gained in the last three years.

The 2024 edition of the NILDS National Quiz Competition on the legislature and democracy commenced on the 17th of October 2024 with the State level of the competition holding across all the 36 States of the Federation. The instant edition is the 9th edition in the series and the 3rd at the national level. It is also the first time all 36 States of the federation have participated. This is in tandem with the objectives of the quiz and the mandate of the Institute in strengthening democratic practices and broadening the knowledge of students on issues of legislative and democratic practices, history, and processes.

The State competitions witnessed a huge success, with dignitaries across the 8 states witnessing and commending the competition. The Institute deployed two of its qualified staff as Quiz Masters and State Coordinators to organize the competition in each of the states, and the competition widely received the support of the various State Ministries of Education and the State Houses of Assembly. Two schools, prequalified from a State-conducted competition represented each of the three Senatorial Districts to make a total of six competing schools per state, with each school being represented by two students. This Report is a consolidation of the individual Reports sent in by the NILDS Officials deployed to the 36 States and the FCT, and flowing from the totality of the collated Reports, the following recommendations have been proffered:

1. Subsequent preparations must begin earlier than preparations for the immediate past edition did. The Committee should be inaugurated at least by the first week of February with the immediate past Committee having been inaugurated in June 2024 and this hampered proper preparations regarding logistics.
2. There should be more involvement of State Houses of Assembly especially the leadership of those Houses, with a view to attending the Competition;
3. Strategic partnerships should be sought with State Governments and State Houses of Assembly towards counterpart funding of the Competition;
4. There should be an up-scale in the prizes for winning schools and of the participating schools generally to provide more prestige for the Competition;
5. Trophies should be provided for the State competitions, and not only restricted to the zonal and final layers of the Competition;
6. The Quiz organizing Committee may consider intensifying online presence to give the competition wider coverage;
7. The Complex of State Houses of Assembly should be the priority host venue for the State and Zonal levels of the Competition;
8. Representatives of participating schools should be included in the channels of communication between the NILDS Quiz Organizing Committee, as against the current practice of liaising only with State appointed representatives, some of who did not pass the reading materials and pre-competition guidelines to the participating schools despite the Quiz Committee making those documents available in good time;

9. NILDS quiz officials must not be sent to their States of origin or residence as this may affect the integrity of the competition and may give rise to staff having interest in the outcome of the competition.

Zonal Competition

At the end of the State competition, winners from each state participated in the zonal competition that took place across the six-geopolitical zones of the country. The zonal competition took place simultaneously on the 31st of October 2024. Plateau State played host to the North Central Zone, Bauchi State hosted the North East Zone, Kaduna State hosted the Northwest Zone, Enugu State hosted the South East Zone, Oyo State hosted the South West Zone, while Rivers State hosted the South South Zone. FCT Abuja emerged winners from the North Central Zone, Taraba State won that of the North East Zone, Jigawa State won from the North West Zone, Enugu State won from the South East Zone, Lagos State won the South West Zone, while Rivers State won the rights to represent the South-South Zone at the Grande-Finale of the competition in Abuja on the 11th of November 2024.

Expectedly, the State Coordinators deployed by NILDS submitted their reports and these have all been collated and produced as one report in this document presented in six sections as follows:

1. Section A covers the North-Central zone;
2. Section B captures reports of proceedings from the North East zone;
3. Section C reports the competition from the North-West zone;
4. Section D presents the report of the competition from the South-East zone; an
5. Section E articulates the proceedings from the South West zone; and
6. Section F explicitly captures the event from the South-South zone.

The report is presented in a tabular and graphic format for easy assimilation, and it suffices to state that due to the experiences in the past competitions and recommendations from previous reports, the 2024 Zonal Competition presented a marked improvement from the previous ones in terms of logistics and organization. Nevertheless, a number of recommendations were gleaned from the instant reports and have been produced as follows:

1. State Houses of Assembly should be adequately informed, and in good time with a view to having the leadership of the various State Houses of Assembly attend subsequent competitions;

2. There is a need to seek strategic partnership with State Governments and State Houses of Assembly for counterpart funding of the competition;
3. The prize reward for winning schools in the competition needs to be up-scaled to figures commensurate to the prestige and status of the National Institute for Democratic and Legislative Studies, and the purpose and intent of the competition at large;
4. The NILDS Quiz Organizing Committee may consider intensifying online presence to give the competition wider coverage;
5. The State Ministries of Education should be encouraged to initiate Legislative Clubs in Schools to build orientation towards the Quiz and generally about Legislative affairs;
6. The State Houses of Assembly should be the priority host venue, with
7. other options only explored where this fails;
8. There is need to seek collaboration and partnership with the private sector to boost the quality of the competition in terms of logistics and prizes;
9. Teachers accompanying participating students should be considered in the distribution of prizes;
10. There is need to upscale the monetary disbursement to State Coordinators for seamless coordination given the present economic realities.
11. There is need for collaboration with the Legislators at the National Assembly to support the competition as part of their constituency outreach.

CONCLUSION

The 2024 Annual Quiz Competition 2024 has been a huge success as evident from the reports from the various States. This is the first time since the extension of the quiz to all the States of the federation that all 36 States of the Federation participated. It is evident that the quiz competition has grown in leaps and bounds. Despite being the third edition of the quiz at the national level, there are still challenges that were encountered across the States. It is important therefore to take the recommendations proffered by the quiz officials who gave eyewitness accounts of how the event went across the States into consideration in order to improve the quality of the competition in the future.

Zonal Level

INFOGRAPHIC REPORT OF NILDS 2024 NATIONAL QUIZ COMPETITION ZONAL LEVEL

A Comprehensive Gender Representation of the Six Geo-Political zones

37

Females

35

Males

Figure 13 shows that Northwest is the only zone that struck a balance in the gender composition of the competing students during the zonal competition. The zone had seven (7) girls and seven (7) boys who participated in the competition. However, female students were in clear majority in Northeast, Southeast and Southwest geo-political zones during the zonal quiz competitions with 9 girls to 3 boys in the Northeast, 6 girls to 4 boys in the Southeast and 7 girls to 5 boys in the Southwest. Conversely, North-central and South-South geo-political zones had more male students competing with 9 boys to 3 girls in Northcentral and 7 boys to 5 girls in the South-South zonal competitions.

WINNING SCORE PER ZONE

Data captured in figure 14 indicates that the winner of the Northcentral zonal quiz competition secured the highest point when compared with the winners in other geopolitical zones with a total score of 70 points. Southwest came second with 60 points while Southeast is placed third with 55 points. However, Northeast, Northwest and South-South zonal winners secured 45 points each.

Executive Summary

The 2024 edition of the NILDS National Quiz Competition on the legislature and democracy commenced on the 17th of October 2024 with the State level of the competition holding across all the 36 States of the Federation. The instant edition is the 9th edition in the series and the 3rd at the national level. It is also the first time all 36 States of the federation have participated. This is in tandem with the objectives of the quiz and the mandate of the Institute in strengthening democratic practices and broadening the knowledge of students on issues of legislative and democratic practices, history, and processes.

The State competitions witnessed a huge success, with dignitaries across the states witnessing and commending the competition. The Institute deployed two of its qualified staff as Quiz Masters and State Coordinators to organize the competition in each of the states, and the competition widely received the support of the various State Ministries of Education and the State Houses of Assembly. Two schools, prequalified from a State-conducted competition represented each of the three Senatorial Districts to make a total of six competing schools per state, with each school being represented by two students. At the end of the State competition, winners from each state participated in the zonal competition that took place across the six-geo-political zones of the country.

The zonal competition took place simultaneously on the 31st of October 2024. Plateau State played host to the North Central Zone, Bauchi State hosted the North East Zone, Kaduna State hosted the Northwest Zone, Enugu State hosted the South East Zone, Oyo State hosted the South West Zone, while Rivers State hosted the South South Zone. FCT Abuja emerged winners from the North Central Zone, Taraba State won that of the North East Zone, Jigawa State won from the North West Zone, Enugu State won from the South East Zone, Lagos State won the South West Zone, while Rivers State won the rights to represent the South-South Zone at the Grande-Finale of the competition in Abuja on the 11th of November 2024.

Expectedly, the State Coordinators deployed by NILDS submitted their reports and these have all been collated and produced as one report in this document presented in six sections as follows:

1. Section A covers the North–Central zone;
2. Section B captures reports of proceedings from the North East zone;
3. Section C reports the competition from the North–West zone;
4. Section D presents the report of the competition from the South–East zone; an
5. Section E articulates the proceedings from the South West zone; and
6. Section F explicitly captures the event from the South–South zone.

The report is presented in a tabular and graphic format for easy assimilation, and it suffices to state that due to the experiences in the past competitions and recommendations from previous reports, the 2024 Zonal Competition presented a marked improvement from the previous ones in terms of logistics and organization. Nevertheless, a number of recommendations were gleaned from the instant reports and have been produced as follows:

1. State Houses of Assembly should be adequately informed, and in good time with a view to having the leadership of the various State Houses of Assembly attend subsequent competitions;
2. There is a need to seek strategic partnership with State Governments and State Houses of Assembly for counterpart funding of the competition;
3. The prize reward for winning schools in the competition needs to be upscaled to figures commensurate to the prestige and status of the National Institute for Democratic and Legislative Studies, and the purpose and intent of the competition at large;
4. The NILDS Quiz Organizing Committee may consider intensifying online presence to give the competition wider coverage;
5. The State Ministries of Education should be encouraged to initiate Legislative Clubs in Schools to build orientation towards the Quiz and generally about Legislative affairs;
6. The State Houses of Assembly should be the priority host venue, with other options only explored where this fails;

7. There is need to seek collaboration and partnership with the private sector to boost the quality of the competition in terms of logistics and prizes;
8. Teachers accompanying participating students should be considered in the distribution of prizes;
9. There is need to upscale the monetary disbursement to State Coordinators for seamless coordination given the present economic realities.
10. There is need for collaboration with the Legislators at the National Assembly to support the competition as part of their constituency outreach.

CONCLUSION

The zonal quiz competition was a huge success as succinctly captured in the reports. It is pertinent however, to pay attention to the recommendations from the six centres of the competition. The National quiz competition is still somewhat in its teething stage, with the 2024 being only the third time the competition is holding at the national level. There are a lot of lessons to learn from the past editions in order to take the competition to the next level.
